

Mobile Streams Partners with A3 Media Network

London, UK – 16 October 2009 – Global mobile content retailers, Mobile Streams and mobile solution provider, A3 Media Network, announced today their newly inked distribution agreement to provide quality comedy content to mobile users in Turkey, Greece and the Czech Republic.

The wholesale agreement gives A3 access to Mobile Streams' extensive comedy catalogue including a wide range of video, wallpaper and ringtone content. Highlights from the extensive content library include 'Mr Bean', the hilarious cartoon version of Rowan Atkinson's world famous TV series; 'Jungle Beat', the quirky animation series featuring unusual animals; 'Suicidal Squirrels', the simply irresistible premium cartoon; 'Bunnykill' featuring Snowball the "cute bunny/fighting machine" and many more.

The content will be available to mobile customers via A3's on-portal services for Turkcell in Turkey, Vodafone in Greece, and T-Mobile and Vodafone in the Czech Republic. "Our partnership with A3 Media Network opens up new opportunities for us in these countries and increases our Company's global footprint. We look forward to our enormously popular comedy content proving just as popular with mobile users in these countries as it has been around the rest of the world," commented Simon Buckingham, founder and CEO of Mobile Streams.

"A3 prides itself on delivering quality content to operator partners via relationships with top media companies and brands. Therefore, we are delighted to have signed this agreement with Mobile Streams and to be broadening the comedy entertainment experience for mobile users in Greece, Turkey and the Czech Republic," added Clint Fayling, CEO of A3 Media Network.
